Pushing the Boundaries with Watercolour

Tony says- Are you ready to up your game and build your confidence with your watercolours?

This workshop is for you!

No matter what subject matter that you personally prefer to paint, I will take you through some fantastic pieces and help to dispel some watercolour myths and give you the confidence you need to overcome any self-doubt that may creep into your mindset while painting.

By the end of this workshop, you will no longer look at a subject and feel daunted or scared of it. You will know HOW to tackle it with your own vision and more importantly, with the confidence you need to succeed.
